SHIMADA, Shigetaro

SHIMADA, The Commander-in-chief of the China Area Fleet.

The Osaka Asahi
2 Dec. 1940

(Special Telegram from Nanking: Dispatched on the 30th)

At the time when our Imperial Government recognized the National Regime, SHIMADA, the Commander-in-Chief of the China Area Fleet, issued a statement as follows:

Recently a treaty for adjusting the new relations between Japan and China was concluded, and our Imperial Government formally recognized the National Regime headed by Mr. WANG Ching-wei as the rightful and only regime in China. This is really a matter for congratulation, because it will make an epoch in the establishment of a New Order for the East Asia. Since President WANG Ching-wei and his followers moved their capital to Nanking, they resisted a great many difficulties and removed various obstacles in their way devoting themselves to a mighty task of establishing a New Order in the East Asia. The new regime has now proved itself both in name and in fact to be a central government in its faculty.

I am firmly convinced that not only the existence of CHIANG'S Regime has entirely been denied due to this fact, but also the basis for establishing a peaceful country has been immovably founded. Now the national foundation of Manchukuo, our friendly country, has become more firm. I believe that the co-prosperity of Greater East Asia solely depends upon how Japan, Manchukuo, and China will cooperate. At this moment, it is a matter of great significance that Japan recognized the National Regime as a rightful government and clarified her resolution to the world that she, in cooperation with the National Regime, would strive for the establishment of a permanent peace in the East Asia.

In accordance with the unshakable policy of our Empire, the China Area Fleet is determined to do its best to bring about a brilliant peace in East Asia by giving whole-hearted cooperation to the National Regime. In conclusion, I earnestly hope that the National Regime will make steady development and I pray for the prosperity of President WANG and his comrades.
